

Treasury Department,

Office of Comptroller of the Treasury,

Washington, D. C., October 27, 1894.

Hon. R. E. Preston,

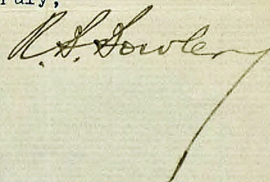

Director of the Mint.

Dear Sir:

Mrs. M. H. Mortimer is at present employed in the adjusting room at the Philadelphia mint. She is anxious to be transferred to the coining room. Mrs. Mortimer is a very worthy woman, the widow of a clergyman, a former rector of mine, and is not in very robust health. She believes that the change would be of advantage to her physically.

I am interested in Mrs. Mortimer and should be much pleased if you could find it possible to grant her request.

Yours truly,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "R. S. Fowler". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long, sweeping tail that extends downwards and to the right.
